President's letter

This is the season of the year that most excites me as a LWVRRV member. It is the season in which after presenting the candidates to the public and studying the issues, we get to present League's positions to the elected officials to make them aware of our concerns with responsive government.

In this LWV there are two states involved and each state has its own way of doing things. That is a challenge as it means that what we do to lobby will be different in each state. In North Dakota, there is a Women's Lobbying Day bus going to Bismarck on February 11. Elected officials will speak to the public in legislative forums in Fargo. In Minnesota individual officials will be interviewed and LWVRRV positions presented to them in conversational manner. This has already been done in Moorhead. By press time, the ND events will be in progress.

We wish to thank two board members who are leaving the board: Phyllis Emmel and Amanda Noce. We appreciate their service to LWVRRV and we hope they will be able to continue to add their voices to league discussions.

*Sincerely,
Patti Roach Kratky
Co-President*

"New York social worker Etta Angel Wheeler finds a little girl wandering naked through the city's slums after having been beaten, slashed, and turned out by her drunken foster mother. Appeals are made to the 8-year old ASPCA for lack of any other agency, the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals decides that the child is an animal and deserving of shelter, the ASPCA prosecutes the foster mother for starving and abusing the 9-year old girl, and the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children (ASPCC) is organized."

■ Meetings of interest

♦ February 17

Nativity Church, Fargo, 7 pm
Human Trafficking

This community meeting is sponsored by Friends of Cass 23. LSS and other organizations are working to provide housing, furniture and such supplies as refugee families receive. These men have their original entry fees and $15,000 bond to pay back as well as send money to their families in India. ND Congressional offices are being asked to provide work authorizations and that the group who brought them here (Signal) be investigated. This discussion and the March 3 First Friday one should be very interesting and enlightening.

♦ Legislative Forums in Fargo and West Fargo. See calendar for dates, times and participants.

■ Thank you

Phyllis Emmel and Amanda Noce have decided to retire from the LWVRRV board of directors. We will miss their good counsel and hope they will be able to join in other league discussions.

■ SSgt Jessica Clark

On February 3, the LWVRRV sent 2 large boxes to board member and member of the Air Force National Guard Jessica Clark. Jessi is deployed to the United Arab Emirates. The 14-pound boxes contained a Valentine card signed by fellow board members and items that were on her "wish list."

Homelessness of Children

The Third Tuesday discussion group has focused on the issue of homeless children. We have collected clippings from The Forum, gathered information from the Fargo Planning Office on the 10-year plan to eliminate homelessness, and identified areas where information was missing.

Of the considerable number of beds in the area, none are dedicated to unaccompanied children and youth.

We attended the 2007-2008 Women's Network production of "Body and Sold" which presented a threat to the social skills of homeless youth. We have identified a major contractor for beds in the area and contacted them to speak to a First Friday meeting.

We will continue to meet on the Third Tuesday at the Moorhead Public Library in the lower level meeting room at 5:30 pm. At this time Ardis Haaland, Frank Kratky, Patti Kratky, Sharon Benzel, and Audrey Richmond have been participating in the group. Others are welcome to join us.

WE Rise: Women Empowered

The League of Women Voters of the Red River Valley has the amazing opportunity to participate in an incredible hand-on learning experience for women and men, right in our state's capital. For one day, February 11, 2009, our members as well as women from across the state will be in the epicenter of our state's legislative activity. WE Rise: Women Empowered will offer behind the scenes insight, meetings with our local lawmakers, and training on how to lobby. Women will have the experience of a lifetime.

Demystifying the legislature is the ultimate goal of the Women's Lobby Day. WE Rise: Women Empowered is where women will learn, participate, carry their enthusiasm home to the other women in their lives, and have the opportunity to say "represent me." The four focus areas are freedom from violence, reproductive health, women's economic security, and education. These allow and encourage women to advocate for strong public policy in the justice areas they care about most.

Over the course of the last year the LWVRRV has participated in a local child care coalition. The goal of the coalition is to educate the public and the policy makers about the importance of early child development and access to quality child care across both states.

Because of the unique role the LWVRRV has played in this community discussion we were approached to head up the education issue at WE Rise: Women Empowered. At the event League Board member Mary Tintes will do a presentation on the mission and work of the LWV as well as highlight a bill pertaining to early child education. This work exemplifies the mission of the LWV perfectly, encouraging informed and active participation in government, working to increase understanding of major public policy issues, and influencing public policy through education and advocacy.

MN Legislative Interviews

On January 30, Representative Morrie Lanning, MN District 9 A, and Patti Kratky met to discuss the LWV positions on Child Care and Homelessness for Children. The interview lasted about 45 minutes and a friendly exchange of views was conducted. Rep. Lanning emphasized that Minnesota's budget is severely restrained by the nearly $6 billion deficit.

On January 31 Representative Paul Marquart, MN District 9B, Patti Kratky and Sharon Benzel met to discuss the LWV positions on Child Care and Homelessness for Children. We also expressed dismay at the progress of the contested election results. The interview lasted about 45 minutes with a friendly exchange of view points. The same budget restraints were noted in the discussion.

*Is the "Political Glass ceiling" Weakening?***

Despite record numbers of women serving in Congress and state legislatures, women are still vastly under-represented in elective office. In our region, women's representation in the Minnesota legislature exceeds that of most other states, while the number of women in the North Dakota legislature has declined. Dr. Deb White will discuss women's status in local, state, and national-level elective office, and review recent research on factors contributing to women's persistent underrepresentation.

Dr. Deb White is a professor of sociology and chair of the Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice at Minnesota State University Moorhead. She is also the coordinator of the Tri-College National Education for Women's Leadership (NEW Leadership) Development Institute, a women's public leadership institute.
